"Peace Prayers"

"Now more than ever . . ." It feels like that to me, that now more than ever we need something in our society, our nation, our world that will help us to work for peace. This is usually one of my most favorite times—it's August of a leap year. That means so many wonderful things are happening: the height of the baseball season, vacations are going on, the drama and often comedy of political conventions, the Olympic Games about to start. But this year it sort of feels like there's too much drama. I am sometimes afraid to turn on the news because there will be news of a new shooting. I lack confidence in those we've elected to do much that will help. I'm scared of what might happen at the Olympics, rather than be excited to watch what will happen.

So what can we do? What can you and I do, what can our church do that will increase peace in our lives and our world? Stephanie Paulsell from Harvard Divinity School says, "We need places to pray as if someone were listening, to study as if we might learn something worth writing on our hearts, to join with others in service as if the world might be transformed. Churches are places to learn to practice with others, a continual conversion of life, a permanent openness to change." Maybe at church is where we start.

Many of us were touched by the prayer vigil we held on Maundy Thursday—Good Friday, as we took up the challenge to "stay awake with Jesus." We prayed in silence for an hour at a time, all through the night in memory of the time Jesus spent in the Garden of Gethsemane. We will do a prayer vigil again on August 6-7 to pray for peace. If we begin here, in our church, in our own hearts, who knows what difference it might make. But we need to pray, now more than ever . . .

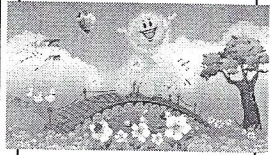

John Kennedy said, "Peace is a daily, a weekly, a monthly process, gradually changing opinions, slowly eroding old barriers, quietly building new structures." This is a new thing we will be doing and maybe it's a way to build something new in our church. We will begin at 6:00 p.m. Saturday night, August 6th and continue until worship begins Sunday morning, concluding our prayer vigil for peace with our Communion celebration.

Why do this? Because we need a more peaceful world and more peaceful lives. How will we do it? We will keep a vigil going all through the night, just like we did Maundy Thursday, with people committing for an hour at a time. Will it make a difference? Maybe nothing will happen, maybe nothing will change. But certainly nothing will happen if we don't work and pray for peace. Maybe it is only we who will be changed. But maybe that's enough.

Grace and Peace,

Mark

We rely on many members and friends to help Sundays run smoothly and be a good worship experience for those attending our church. If for some reason you are not able to help on the day originally selected, please find a replacement or someone to trade with, and let the church office know. The yearly list of volunteers can be found at www.fpcrich.com, under "Living the Faith", then "volunteer schedule". Or call Julie for a list of names. Thank you!

August 2016 Missionary Report

NOTE: If you would like to give a baby gift to Deng and Mary, there is a suitcase in the Gull Prairie Room until August 21st.

Dear Church Family,

My last month has been busy with travel. In early July, my mom traveled to South Sudan because it is our custom that she is the one who hands over my wife back to her parents to finish her pregnancy and give birth there in September or October. Mary is doing well right now. She is with her parents now in a town close to Bor, called Pen-Deng-Kut. I can travel there by car. When the road is bad, it takes about 30 minutes; 10 minutes if the road is good.

You may have heard about the dangerous conditions in South Sudan. My mom and I are both safe now. I will share my prayer request with you that I sent to Rev. Mark on July 17:

Thank you Rev. Mark for your prayers. I am actually on my way to Kenya and I will be traveling to US on July 20th. I am travelling by road and this is risky especially at this time where the head of the government of South Sudan and its rebel leader are NOT on the same page again. The rebel leader attempted to overthrow the government for the second time. Fighting broke out on July 8th at the presidential palace in Juba and the lives of more than 1000 soldiers were killed from each side - that is rebels and government soldiers.

The recent incident created insecurity in Juba and the states around Juba. The means of transportation are now limited due to insecurity in Juba. There are no flights from Juba to Bor or from Bor to Juba. I booked my ticket before the current crisis and I was supposed to fly from Bor to Juba, and then take a bus from Juba to Kenya. It was unfortunate that now I have to travel today from Bor to Juba and then to Nimule, the town at Uganda border. The road to Nimule has become the most dangerous road in South Sudan for the last two days. The tribe along the road is singling out Dinkas (my tribe) and they kill the Dinkas who happens to be on the road. They have been doing that since Friday. I found burned bodies along the road to Nimule. The burned vehicles are still on the road.

I am travelling with my mother. She was totally out of breath today. She didn't think we were going to make it to Nimule. She was praying very hard by asking God to protect us. Likewise, I was praying asking the same thing, protection. We were relieved when we saw Nimule town over Nimule Mountain sloping down. I am sure the other passengers that were with us were also afraid but maybe not to our degree because they were not Dinkas and that may exempt them from terror. Well, we have an awesome God who always protects His people and he did so today.

I am now spending a night in Nimule with my mother and we will cross to Uganda tomorrow and we will proceed to Kenya. The next journey will be okay and I still need you to continue pray for me and my mother. Abraham and his wife were so worried but they are now relieved. I called Abraham on my arrival to Nimule and the first word that I heard from him was "Thank God you have made it safely to Nimule."

I hope the security will improve in days and the months ahead. It will be an honor if my wife gives birth while I am in South Sudan, this is my wish. I ask you to continue to pray for Mary throughout her pregnancy.

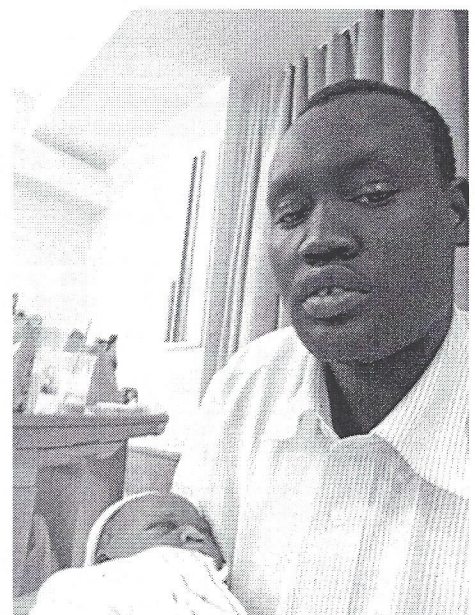

Again, I thank God for my safe journey from Bor to Juba, then to Nimule. Thank you Rev. Mark for your prayers. You are a great shepherd, not only to my family, but also to the entire church in Richland, Michigan. I will see you soon.

The first week of August, I will go to Boston to see my brother Abraham, his wife Tabitha and their three kids. I can't wait to see baby Deng Alier Thon (Deng, Jr.) who was born in May. See photos below.

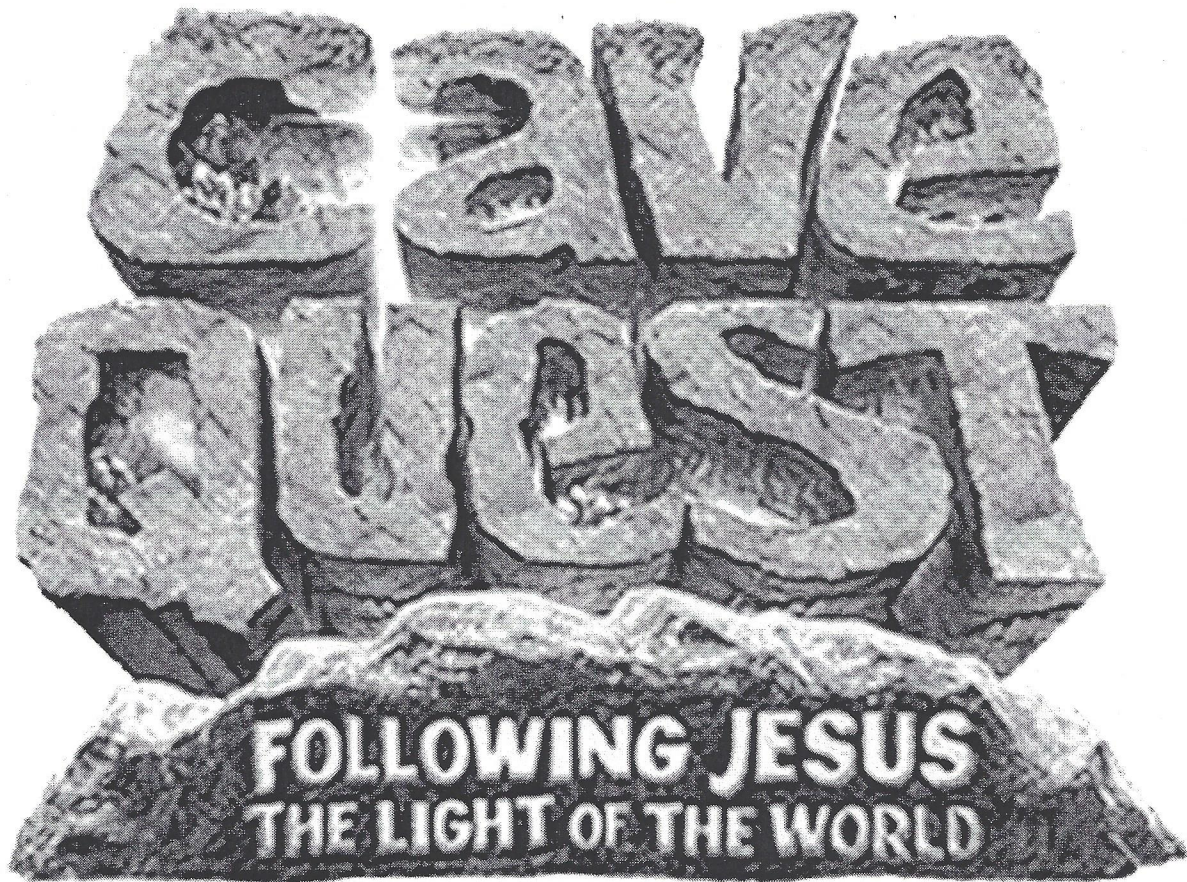

I will be back in Michigan for a couple weeks before I return to Memorial Christian Hospital in Werkok and visit Mary.

Your prayers and support are a blessing. Thank you! I am anxious to see you all in church,

Deng Thon Alier (Samuel)

Commitment to Peace in a Violent World

We need only turn on the television, listen to the radio, or read the newspaper to see that we live in a violent world. It often seems that each day brings more violence. For the last six years the Presbyterian Church (USA) has struggled to discern our churches response to this violence. After much review and prayer, this summer the 222nd General Assembly adopted the following five affirmations as a believer's calling. We urge you to study these affirmations and discern for yourself whether these affirmations of the church are something that you, in faith, can live by.

1. We affirm that peacemaking is essential to our faith in God's reconciling work in Jesus Christ, whose love and justice challenge evil and hatred, and whose call gives our church a mission to present alternatives to violence.
2. We confess that we have sinned by participating in acts of violence, both structural and physical, or by our failure to respond to acts and threats of violence with ministries of justice, healing, and reconciliation.
3. We follow Jesus Christ, Prince of Peace and Reconciler, and reclaim the power of nonviolent love evident in his life and teaching, his healings and reversals of evil, his cross and resurrection.
4. Learning from nonviolent struggles and counting the costs of war, we draw upon the traditions of Just War, Christian pacifism, and Just Peacemaking to cultivate moral imagination and discern God's redemptive work in history.

We commit ourselves to studying and practicing nonviolent means of conflict resolution, nonviolent methods for social change, and nonviolent opposition to war. Even as we actively engage in a peace discernment process, we commit ourselves to continuing the long tradition of support by the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) for our sisters and brothers who serve in the United States military, veterans, and their families. We promise to support materially and socially veterans of war who suffer injury in body, mind, or spirit, even as we work toward the day when they will need to fight no more.

5. We place our faith, hope, and trust in God alone. We renounce violence as a means to further selfish national interests, to procure wealth, or to dominate others. We will practice boldly the things that make for peace and look for the day when "they shall beat their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore."

We as a congregation and individuals will have opportunities to pray for and work for peace in this coming year. Congregational and personal discernment of God's leading is important. To start this process, we are planning a prayer vigil for peace starting Saturday, August 6. This vigil will be a time for individual prayer and discernment. The vigil will continue throughout the night and end with Sunday service which will be dedicated to God's peace. We urge you to sign up and participate in this vigil. More information will be coming shortly.
